4. What can LAs do to protect the GB?
5. A positive future for London's GB

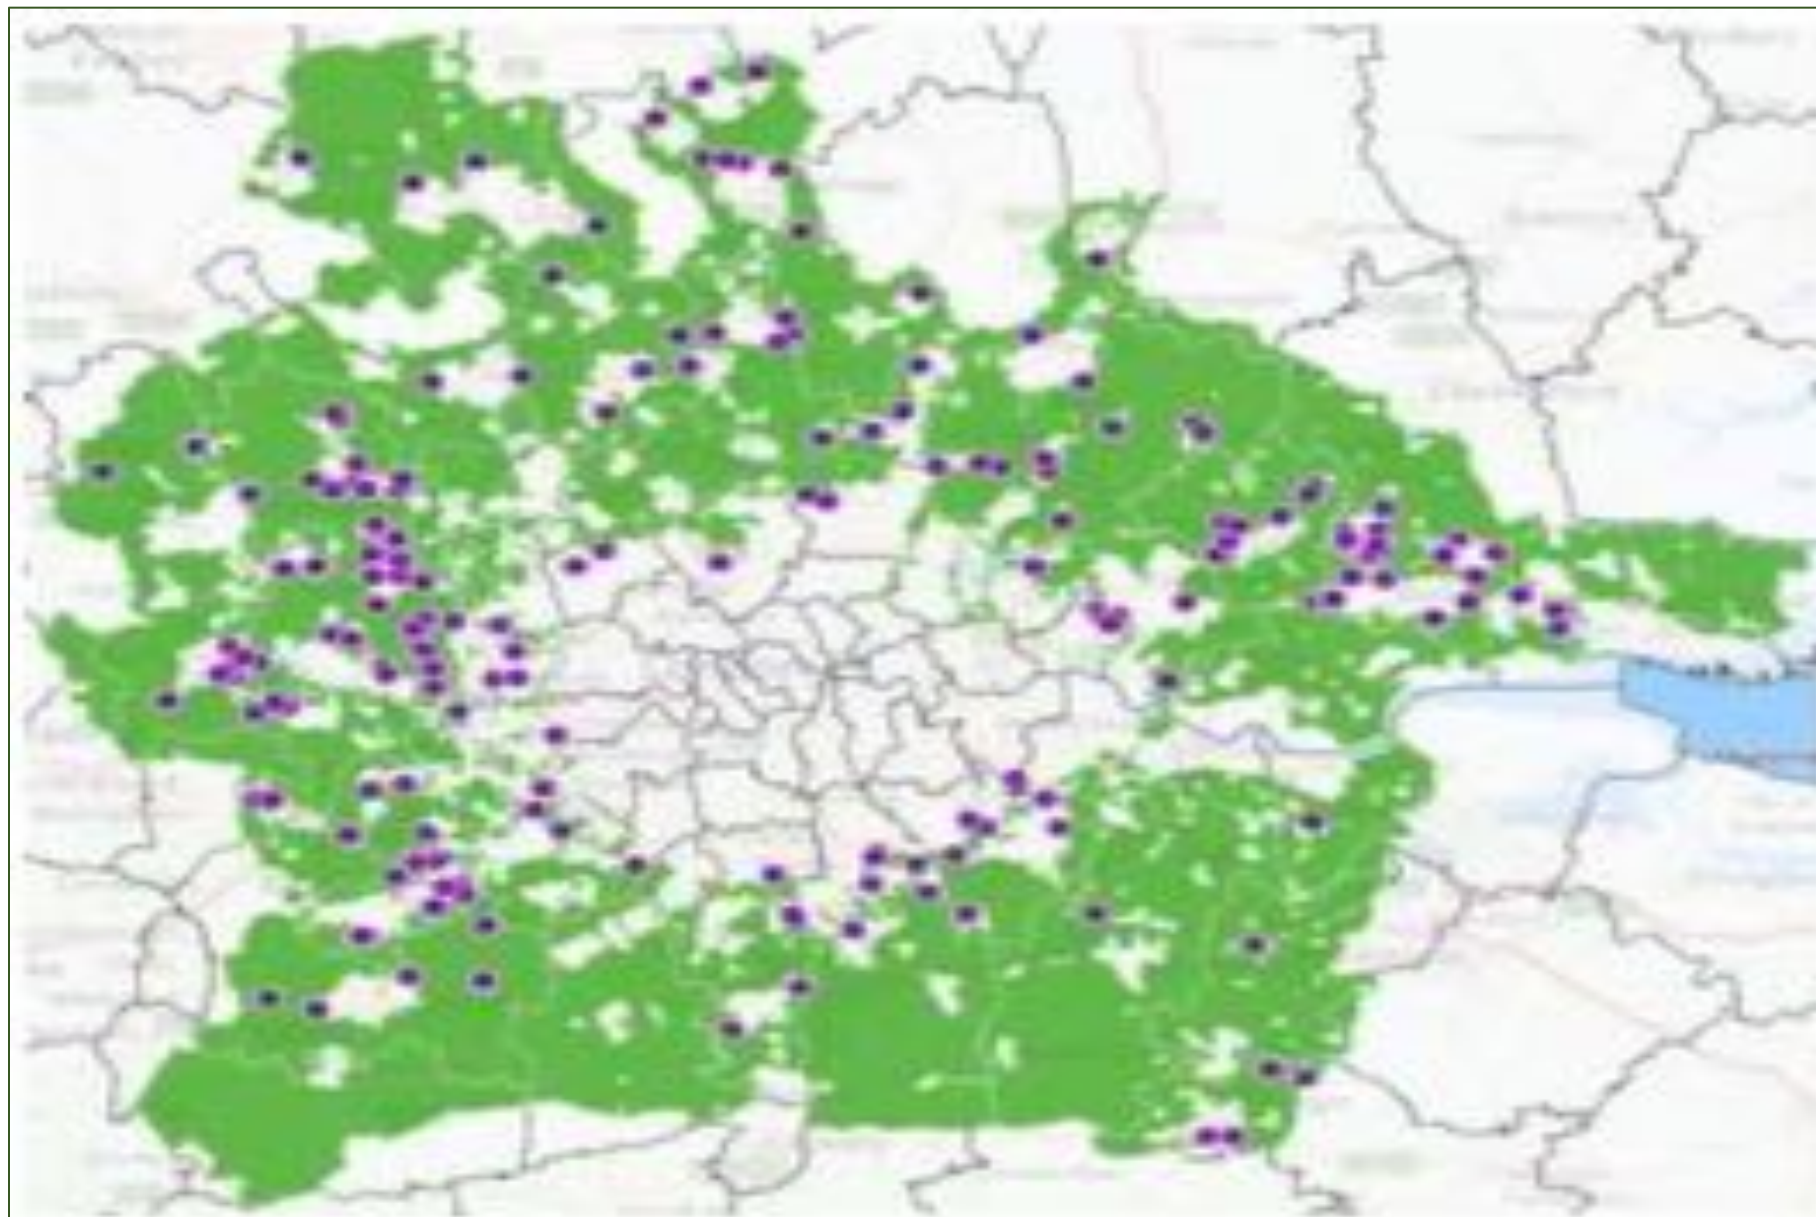

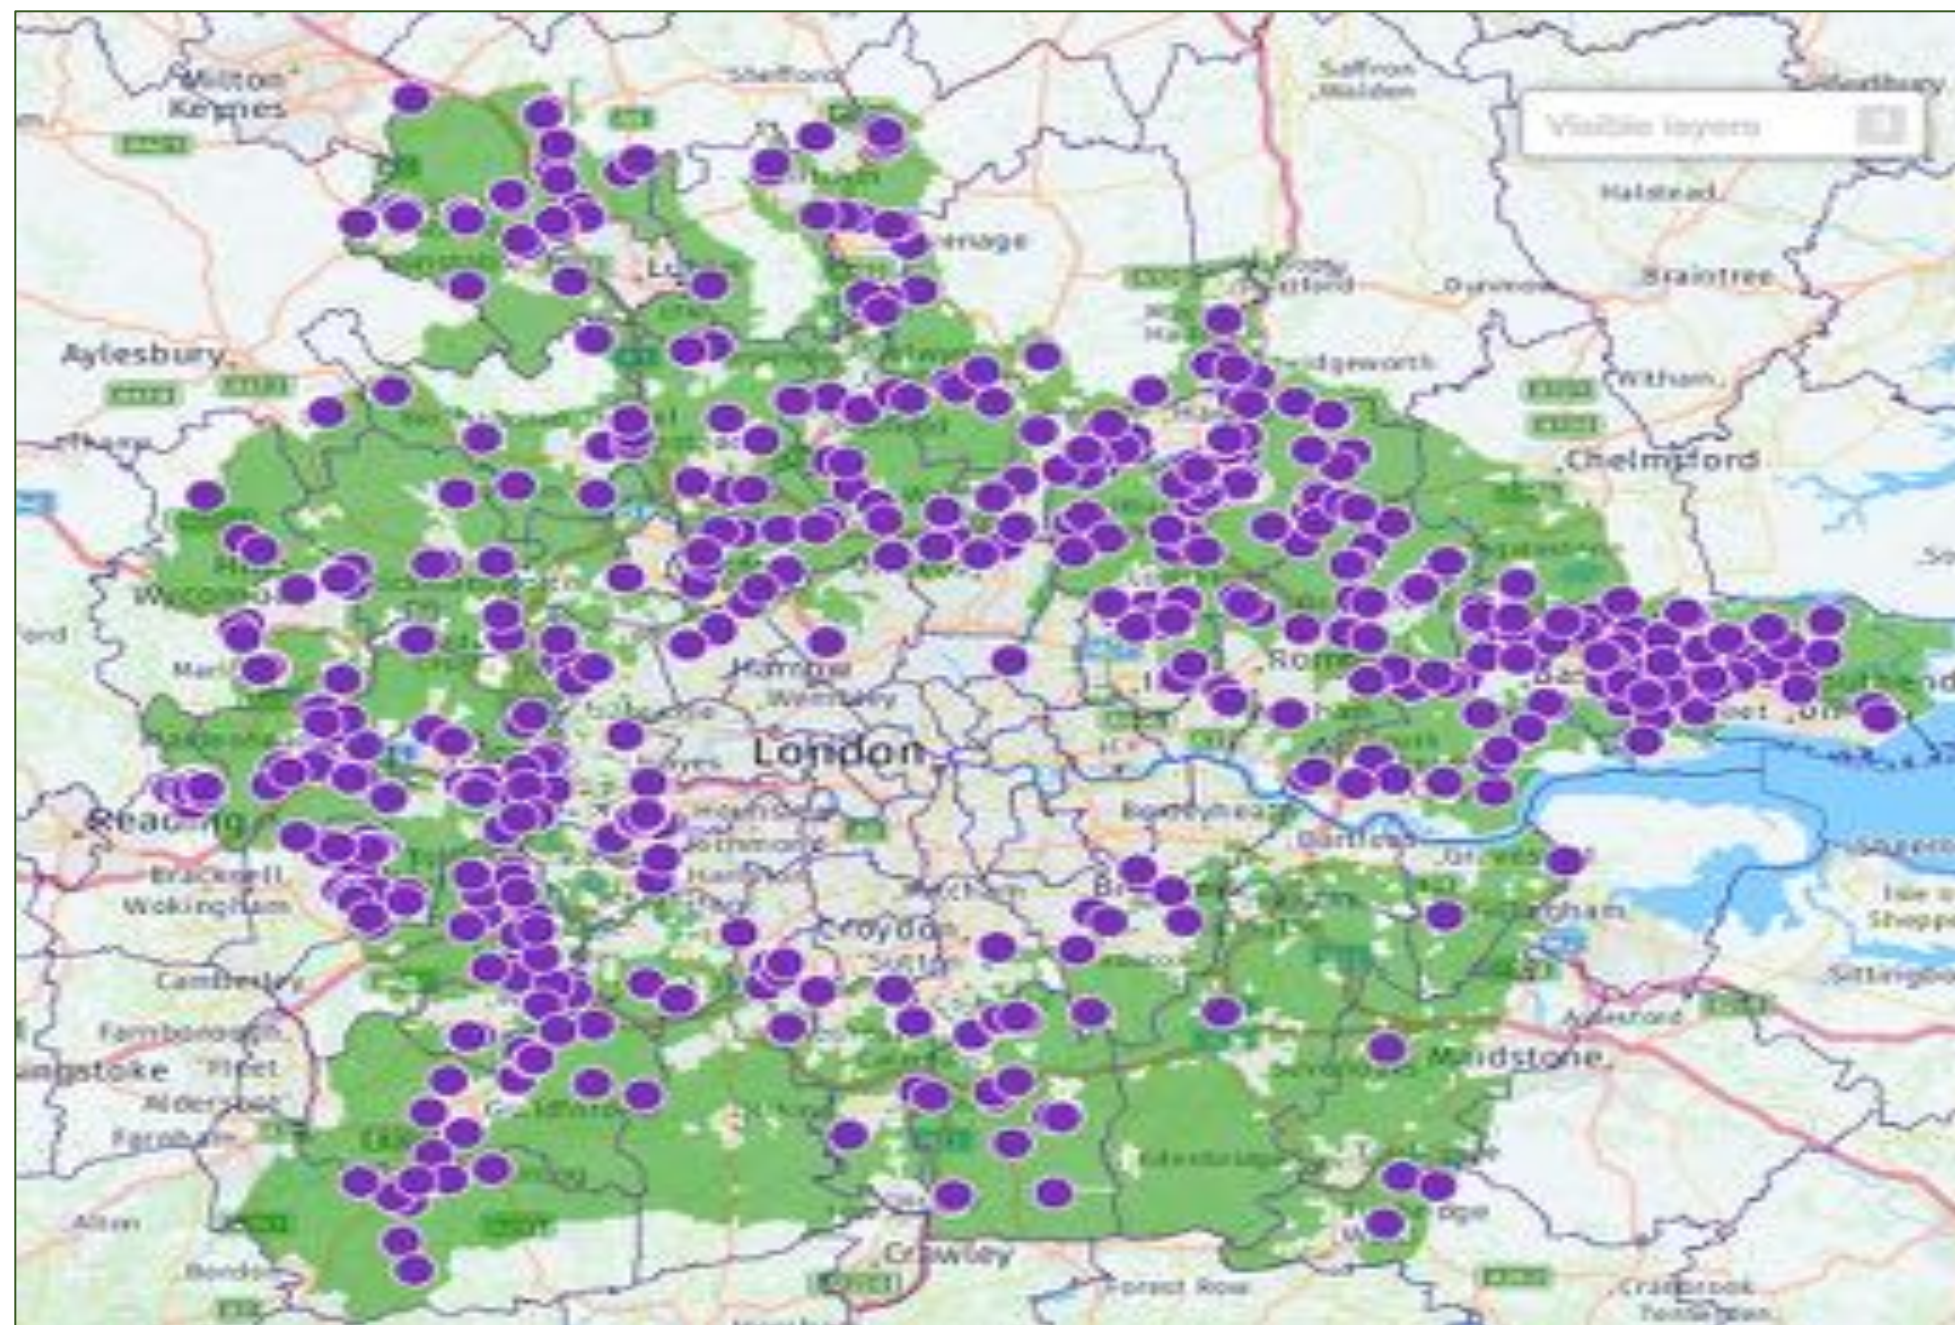

What is happening to London's Green Belt?

'Safe Under Us'?

The shrinking of London's local countryside

Safe Under Us – January 2021

- There are plans to build 233,276 new houses on the land in the LMGB
- The number of LMGB sites earmarked for housing in Local Plans has risen by 211% since 2016
- The three counties with the greatest threats to their GBs are Essex, Hertfordshire and Surrey.
- These counties are further ahead with their local plans - the further they are in the process the greater the loss of GB
- Inspectors at Local Plan reviews are insisting on GB Reviews and GB loss in spite of Government policy.
- Councillors profess their keenness for the protection of London's Green Belt but have allowed Planning Officers and Local Plan Inspectors to override their wishes.

Safe Under Us – January 2021

- The threats to London's GB are widespread with 78% of the 66 Local Planning Authorities (LPAs) currently considering or proposing development on LMGB land.
- There is no overall land strategy for the LMGB, the 66 Local Plans are being examined individually with a lack of consistency and coordination.
- There is currently no overall mechanism by which the cumulative impact of the threats is being considered resulting in the loss of land for food production, recreation, and important mental health benefits.
- There is no overall strategic body tasked with the responsibility for important land use planning, despite GB being an important cornerstone of the planning system.

What is happening to the GB round London?

- National planning policy appears to be ineffective in implementing controls on development in the GB. "Exceptional circumstances" is being interpreted by planning officers and inspectors in a somewhat cavalier fashion, resulting in further unnecessary loss of important GB.
- Colney Heath & Hertsmere
- In spite of government ministers' statements to the contrary, failing to meet housing targets is being used more frequently to further loss of the LMGB.
- Updates to the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) have failed to give GB the protection it needs, if it is not to be continuously eroded. A clearer definition of "exceptional circumstances" is urgently required.

What is happening to the GB round London

- Development in the LMGB is not providing affordable homes. There is little or no evidence that any affordable development in the LMGB is taking place.
- Development in the LMGB is mainly 4 or 5 bedroomed low-density housing and is not providing homes for young people.
- Many of the sites proposed will not be on public transport routes and will therefore be unsustainable.
- Published data on brownfield land shows that there are sufficient brownfield sites within those district council areas within LMGB to deliver nearly 250,000 homes - enough to replace all the houses planned for GB land.
- In each five-year planning cycle, the threat to London's Green Belt will continue to increase.

How is planning policy being applied?

How is planning policy being applied?

- GB reviews
- Brownfield
- Affordable
- Densities
- Sustainable

GB Review

- Are they obligatory?
- “Contributes to all five of the purposes of the Green Belt”
- Green Belt Review can conclude that no Green Belt land should be identified for removal.
- Only by submitting a LP that suggests GB loss to development may an Inspector consider it
- Being used by developers to support GB development

Rt Hon Sajid Javid MP – 27.04.2018

“Planning Inspectors cannot enforce Green Belt releases onto authorities.

Inspectors can only recommend changes to plans that have been submitted for examination where the plan would otherwise be found unsound, and if requested to do so by the authority.

Ultimately the decision whether to adopt a local plan also rests with the local planning authority itself.”

Brandon Lewis – Housing Min 07.06.16

“We have repeatedly made clear that demand for housing alone will not change Green Belt Boundaries”

GB Review

Para 141

“Before concluding that exceptional circumstances exist to justify changes to Green Belt boundaries, the strategic policy making authority should be able to demonstrate that it has examined fully all other reasonable options for meeting its identified need for development”

Michael Gove – Select Comm 08.11.21

“My colleague Chris Pincher has made it clear that in developing a plan a local authority can say, “Right, this is the number to which we have been working. However, in this community, in this area, you have to take account of the fact that we have AONBs here, SSSIs here, green belt there and so on. It would be unrealistic to expect us, consistently with other factors, to meet the figure that has been produced”

Brownfield

- Why no brownfield review?
- Are Brownfield Registers comprehensive?
- Are Brownfield registers up to date?
- Higher densities
- Empty homes

Brownfield – CPRE Report Nov 2021

- 2006 – 2017 - proportion of Brownfield reduced by 38%
- proportion of Greenfield increased by 148%
- Brownfield capacity increased by over 100,000 since last year
- Brownfield capacity now 1.3m new homes
- Planning permission for Brownfield down

Space to Build, Enfield

- Concerns about proposed development at Crews Hill in Enfield's Green Belt
- Concern that key opportunities were being ignored
- Research undertaken winter 2018/19

Densities

- Cities

How are LAs and Residents responding?

LAs and Residents

- Bracknell Forest
- Dacorum
- Guildford
- Sevenoaks

What can LAs do to protect the GB?

What can LAs do to protect the GB?

- Question the housing figures for their district
- Use the 2018 ONS figures for realism - census
- Take into account the 1m emigrations since BREXIT
- Resist a GB review
- Carry out a comprehensive Brownfield review
- Look at higher densities
- Wait and see what happens to the Planning/Levelling Up Act
- Encourage local community involvement
- Listen to consultation response
- Act as a group

Campaigning

A Positive Vision for London's Green Belt

What can LAs do to protect the GB?

- Covid
- Climate change
- Flooding
- Clean water
- Landscape
- Biodiversity
- Tree planting
- Access
- Recreation
- Health & wellbeing
- Economic benefit

Recommendations

- Create a strategic body
- Develop a 25 year strategic plan
- Protect GB boundaries
- Brownfield first
- Define exceptional circumstances
- Conserve and enhance Green Belt
- Encourage access
